Does your Library undertake name entity disambiguation (NED) for your East Asian resources?

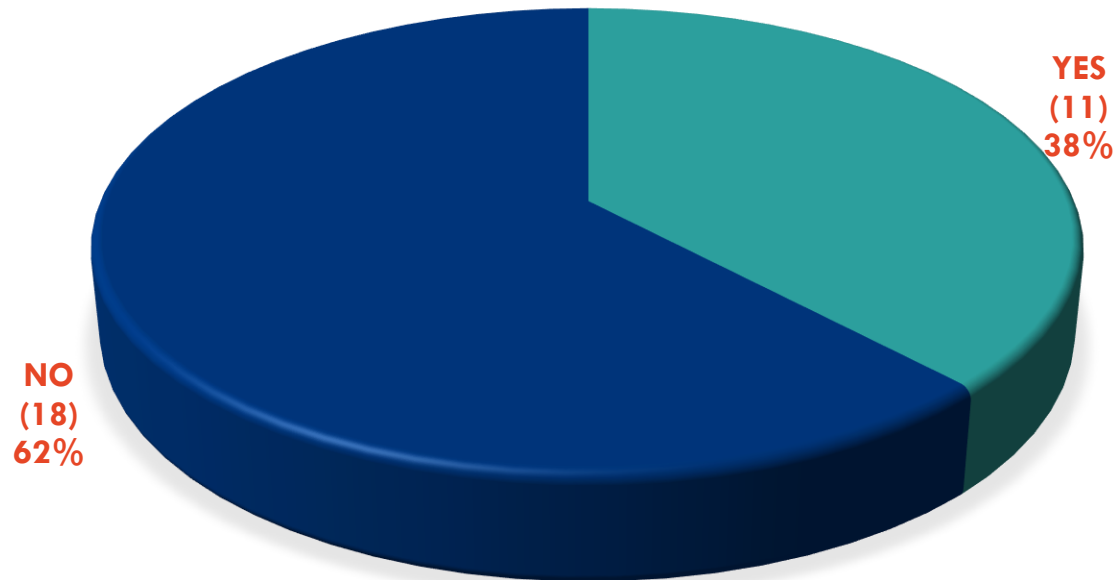

What are your main reasons for doing NED for East Asian resources?

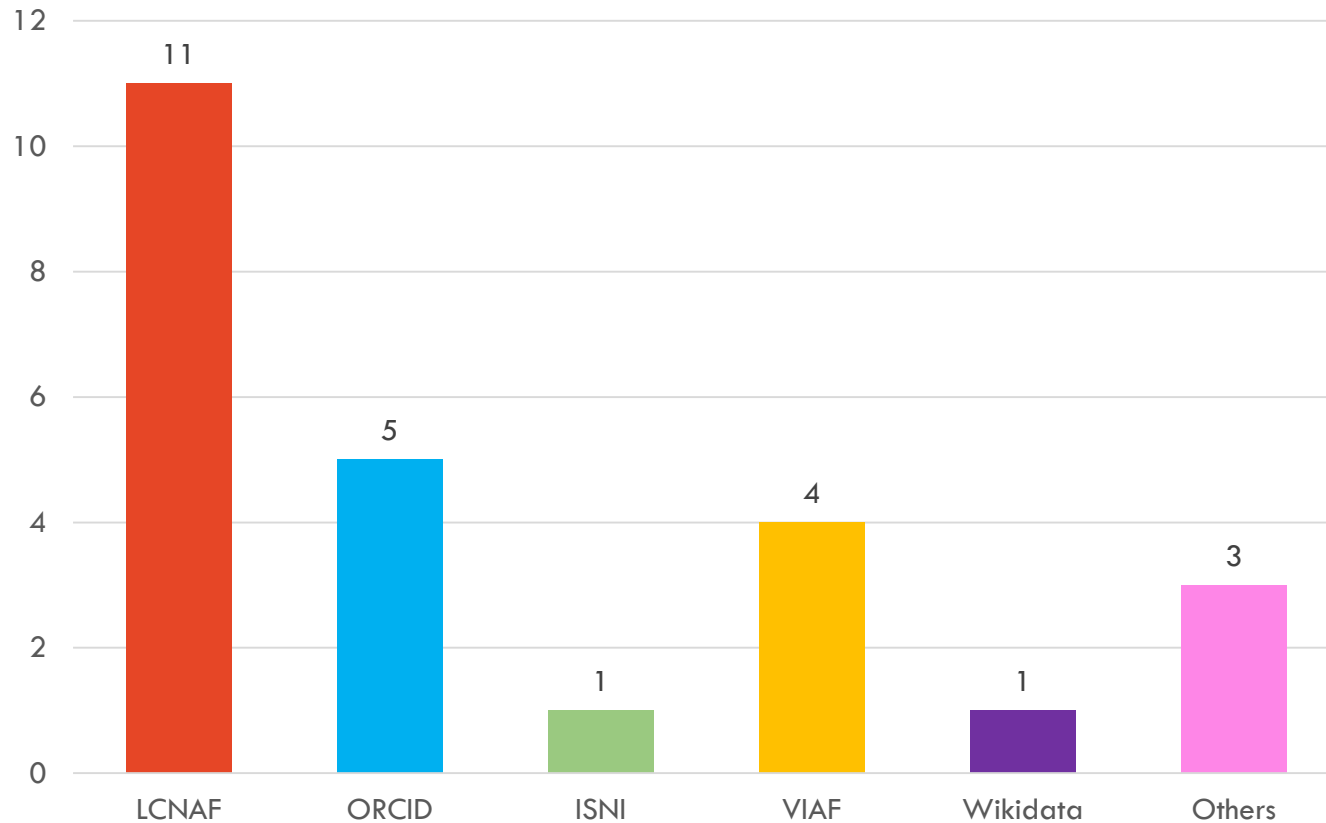

What are your main reasons for not doing NED for East Asian resources?

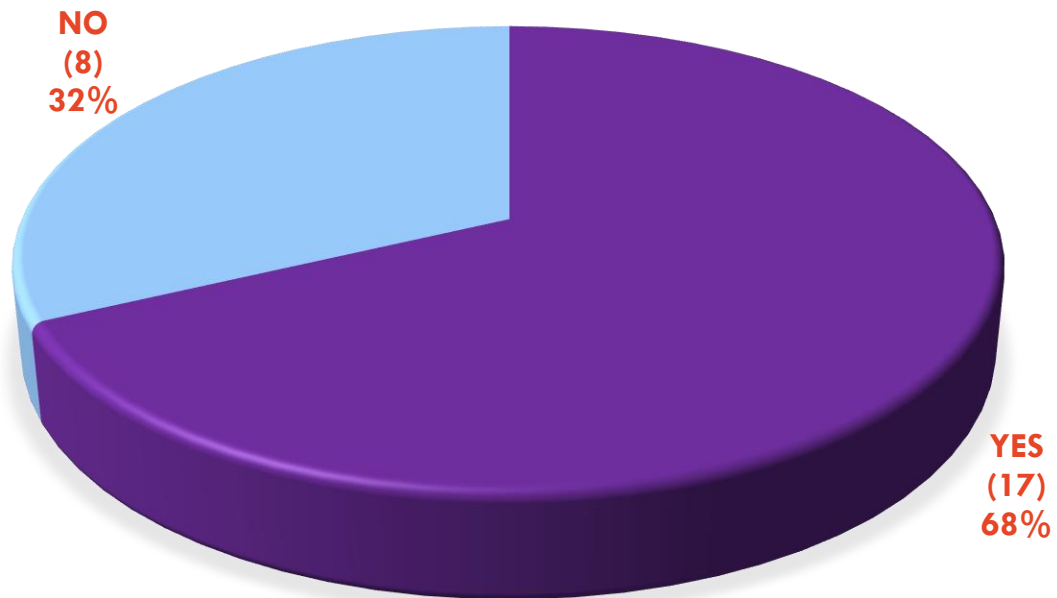

Does your Library use unique identifiers for name entity access points (e.g. $0 data for ISNI, LCNAF, etc. in MARC) for your East Asian resources?

Which unique identifier(s) does your Library use for the name entity access points?

Would your Library be interested in being part of a consortia/pilot project to use automated machine processing for NED of East Asian resources?

The great divide...

La dolce far niente ...

Let the machine take over ...

Working together for a better world ...
